Dear Friends,

On behalf of The David Raymond Price Foundation and its board of directors, I wish to extend our sincere thanks for your support and donations. We have received in excess of 200 individual donations and the Foundation is up and running. We also want to express our sincere thanks to each of you who have sent notes of encouragement.

The establishment of this Foundation, in David's name, has been challenging for us all. Our heartfelt hope is that through our efforts we will be able to make a difference in the lives of some young people and their families. We are dedicated to the success of the Foundation.

Over the past eighteen months we have established a board of directors, narrowly defined our mission, researched organizations and areas of gifting, implemented a gifting strategy and focused on future plans.

We have worked diligently in defining our mission through our mission statement: "The David Raymond Price Foundation increases awareness of depression among youth through education".

The Foundation has established a board of directors comprised of the following individuals: Janice Price, Bill Hickey, Mary Clare Finney, Roger Fullington, Claire Price, James Langdon, Michael Boyd, Erik Vachon, Warren Price, Constantine Gogos and me. And, of course, we benefit from the thoughts and ideas of Paul W. Price.

To accomplish our mission, we have adopted a strategy to focus on three areas: the Dallas area where David was born; the Maryland area where David spent his young adult life; and National programs where a broader impact can be made for our cause. In Dallas, we have established an alliance with C.A.R.E., Chemical Awareness, Research and Education. This twenty-three year old organization focuses on serving the needs of the Park Cities and North Dallas. Together we will focus on the education and awareness of the youth they serve, directed at depression. In Maryland, we are working with a major private school to structure and implement an ongoing program directed towards increasing awareness of depression through education. We hope to tell you more about this effort in the coming months. Lastly, we are supporting national organizations whose efforts are aligned with our mission. For 2005, we have made a substantial gift to Columbia University's TeenScreen Program. Our contribution has been directed towards the establishment and continuation of screening programs in local organizations and schools across the country to identify at-risk teens for symptoms of depression.

Additionally, we hope to have our website www.drpf.org online within the next several months.

We are committed to the worthy cause of our mission. Thank you for all that you have done and for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Paul Price
